

O'NEILL COUNTRY HISTORICAL SOCIETY

'Tullyelmer' A Townland Through Time

The history, geography and industrial archaeology of a small area on the outskirts of Armagh. Find out about its land, its' owners and how it has changed over the years. How its' convenient location on the banks of the Callan river has been for centuries the site of mills utilising the rivers water power. Townlands are unique to Ireland, and the talk will illustrate our heritage for our local place.
